Letter of recommendation

The Embassy of Sweden in Belgrade initiated the Creative Mentorship project in 2011 and has since then actively supported the project in various ways.

This project has proven to be one of the most sustainable and significant projects of the Embassy within culture and public diplomacy. Through this project the Embassy has been in an position to expand its network of connectors, young professionals and experienced leaders within many fields of the society.

Creative Mentorship has developed into a platform that provides possibilities for professional and individual development for engaged and skilful persons within culture and society. It enables the participants to share and hear about experiences that they would otherwise not have access to. Therefore this project can only be positive and very contributing to all parties and especially to the society as a whole, as it promotes openness, accessibility and knowledge sharing.

Therefore I encourage every form of support that will strengthen its potential and sustainability.
